Solutions

Made modular for your needs

Monitor provides multi-tiered solutions for the modern corporate environment. Whether you're a one-room office or a multi-national corporation, Monitor will work with you to create a software suite that suits. Monitor's modular approach means you'll have a best-fit, complete solution for your organisation.

Economical and ecological

Managing document output is a small investment that rewards with sizeable gains, often paying for itself within months. Our transaction management system is the key to gaining insight into printing, scanning and copy, but also into phone call charges, internet usage, couriers and other office costs. Staff use their access card or a PIN to allocate their activity, at the MFD, or through pop-ups on screen, ensuring accurate capture of costs to budgets.

Small scale or comprehensive – you choose

We offer a recovery system that answers a major cost problem, without adding a new one. Our modular approach means that government departments or businesses can choose the functions they need – print, copy and scan, then add others later, such as building access and parking. Monitor's software, terminals and card readers work with the standard (and some non-standard) print and telecommunication hardware, so offices can continue to use existing equipment and cards – proximity, magnetic stripe or barcode.

Reduce Waste

Reduce your carbon footprint while increasing productivity. Monitor tracks the waste of both resources and time with visible tracking, streamlining and increased user responsibility.

Lower Costs

Recover the potential thousands lost every day in small, poorly documented transactions. Create extra cashflow but introducing extra monetisation options into your everyday office operations.

Increase Security

Your sensitive documents, user information client details are safe and secure. With different levels of access, easy user authorisation and tracking, information is always safe and in the right hands.

Print management

Monitor Print allows you complete control over all printing in your organisation. Monitor manages everything from on-screen print pop-ups to embedded software on multi-function printer/copiers, with the ability to specify different rules per user or group. Secure Find-Me printing ensures security rises, while wastes drops to nothing.

Room & Resource Reservation

With the ability to reserve facilities, meeting rooms and PCs, Monitor gives your business the power to self-manage its resources with an efficient and intuitive booking system. You can also generate extra income from unused resources by offering hotdesks or short term hire of meeting rooms.

POS & Vending

Monitor provides a complete point of sale and e-commerce solution, flexible enough to manage everything from a full restaurant to a single office vending machine. Users are able to manage their own accounts, order days in advance, and use the same authentication method they use to print or access the building. And of course, it's all tracked and monitored.

Carpark & building access

With Monitor's flexibility, you can use the same card to authorise printing as you do to enter the building or carpark. Not only will this mean your staff and users require only one swipe card (or fingerprint) to access everything, it also increases your capacity to track and allocate staff and resources.
